Our Mission

“The Utah Center for Legal Inclusion (UCLI) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in Utah’s legal profession. In coordination with its partners, UCLI strives to facilitate educational opportunities and professional advancement for students and attorneys with diverse backgrounds, enhance organizational inclusion, and track the progress of these efforts throughout the state.”

Our Programs

- Community Outreach

UCLI’s Community Outreach Committee partners with community groups and organizations serving diverse and marginalized populations in an effort to develop more effective initiatives that meet the needs of diverse community interests. Through these efforts, UCLI aims to increase proximity between lawyers and diverse populations in Utah, create space for Utahns to understand and trust those in the legal profession and legal institutions, and amplify access to justice efforts around the state

- Continuing Legal Education (CLE)

UCLI’s Continuing Legal Education (CLE) Committee organizes panels, presentations, and other opportunities to learn about DEI issues in the law. Recent CLEs have included a series on the relationship between wellbeing and DEI as well as an annual racial justice series.

- Development

UCLI’s Development Committee helps the organization remain viable and sustainable by assisting with fundraising efforts. Although much of the grant writing and other fundraising efforts are administered by UCLI staff, the committee strategizes each year regarding new funding sources and effective methods.

- Education (PLEDGE)

UCLI has developed a comprehensive education and mentoring program that assists diverse students in achieving academic and professional goals in the law. This program is titled PLEDGE, which stands for Promoting Legal Education to Diverse Groups Everywhere. PLEDGE supports and enhances programs serving students in K-12 schools, undergraduate institutions, and law schools, in an effort to introduce students to legal principles and practice, to provide meaningful mentoring opportunities, and to connect students with financial and other resources.

- Organizational Inclusion/Advancement

One of UCLI's key missions is to support and encourage workplace inclusion among organizations that employ lawyers and also assist with professional advancement for diverse attorneys. UCLI's Certification Program is a key piece of this effort and its overall mission. Employers enrolled in the Certification Program must take concrete steps each year to foster more inclusive work environments, with the goal of promoting both meaningful and sustainable progress. UCLI is also working with other groups to identify advancement gaps and needs so programs can be developed that meet the needs of individual attorneys.

- Tracking Progress

UCLI's Tracking Progress Committee oversees data collection efforts aimed at better understanding the current state of DEI in Utah's legal profession. UCLI seeks to encourage regular data collection among all relevant groups and partners, including the Utah State Bar and UCLI Certification employers. The data will be used to inform UCLI's work and identify the areas where UCLI can focus its efforts.

Our Team

Organizational Values

- We believe in the fundamental dignity and equality of all people.
- We believe that a diverse and inclusive legal profession is essential for upholding ethical standards and community values, enhancing organizational effectiveness, and preserving the ability of our legal system to properly administer and provide access to justice.
- We believe in fostering a safe and inclusive organizational environment where employees, board and committee members, and volunteers are welcomed, valued, respected, and afforded substantive opportunities to participate and be heard.
- We believe in employee development at all levels of the organization.
- We encourage and work to facilitate a culture of openness, empathy, collaboration, trust, and respect that makes space for complex, and sometimes difficult, conversations and dialogue about diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- We are committed to a mindset of growth, integrity, and accountability that includes continuing to research workplace diversity and inclusion strategies, evaluating the effectiveness of our policies and practices, making adjustments as necessary, and seeking to both educate and learn from others when it comes to diversity, equity, and inclusion matters.

Code of Conduct

UCLI is committed to upholding and advancing the principles of fairness, equity, and inclusion. As such, UCLI prohibits discrimination and harassment and provides equal opportunities, including reasonable accommodations as needed and compatible with the performance of essential job functions, to all employees and applicants for employment irrespective of race, ethnicity, color, religion, age, sex, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or any other characteristic protected by federal, state, or local laws. It is the responsibility of each and every representative of UCLI to give our policy of equal employment opportunity full meaning, support, and effect.

This policy applies to all employment practices and actions. It includes, but may not be limited to, the job application process, hiring, training, placement, disciplinary action, termination, compensation, advancement, and leaves of absence. The UCLI Board of Directors will periodically review this policy and may make adjustments to it in accordance with relevant developments in employment laws and best practices. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Kaitlyn Pieper at kaitlyn@utahcli.org.

Intern Expectations

General Expectations

Interns are expected to:

1. Understand and articulate UCLI's mission, goals, and rationale for program efforts.
2. Attend and participate in all meetings.
3. Complete assignments thoroughly and in a timely manner.
4. Demonstrate effective time-management skills and ability to prioritize tasks (ex. makes productive use of "downtime", plans out weekly activities, sets goals and works to meet them)
5. Communicate proactively and regularly with the UCLI team members.
6. Solicit engagement and collaborate effectively with the UCLI team and beneficiaries where possible.
7. Solicit expertise and empower the UCLI team and beneficiaries in all aspects of the project.
8. Execute research assignments effectively and thoroughly.
9. Demonstrate creative and constructive problem-solving skills when necessary.
10. Take initiative to lead and collaborate on projects.
11. Maintain open and honest feedback with the UCLI team.

Meetings

Attendance will be required at meetings. We will have one weekly team meeting for the entire team (staff and interns). The day and time of the team meeting will be determined based on the team's schedule. We use these meetings to go over team projects, discuss updates on activity within UCLI as a whole, or speak to special guests about their career path and background. We also have smaller group meetings to ensure each intern is having interaction with staff and other interns. Small group meetings are a perfect opportunity to ask questions about projects, communicate if you need more help or time on a project, and let us know how you are feeling about your workload!

All meetings will be held over Zoom. While Zoom is a wonderful way to connect with people, it is tempting to be disconnected. We ask that you keep your cameras on at all times (unless there is an issue or emergency, in which case, please express that to one of the staff members).

Meeting Schedule and Elements:

Each week we will meet as a team for professional development and networking. The schedule will alternate between one week with just our team members, and the other week we will be joined by an attorney, law student, or judge.

Our team meetings consist of four elements: ice breaker, media review, DEI topic or area of law presentation, and a staff member presentation. Each semester each intern will be expected to sign up to present in each of the 4 areas. These can be done on the same day. However, we prefer you to sign up on different days throughout the semester. Following are the expectations of each presentation.

Ice Breaker:

This is a short activity to help team members get to know each other better. This should be very simple. For example, a question like, "What is your favorite movie, and why?" It may also include asking everyone for a baby picture beforehand, and then have people guess who is who at the meeting.

Media Review:

The team member in charge reviews a piece of media they find relevant to DEI and or the work and mission of UCLI. This is meant to be fairly lighthearted and can include articles, books, movies, TV shows, and social media content. This should take no more than 5 minutes.

DEI Topic Presentation:

Each intern will pick one week during a team meeting to present on a DEI topic. This is to help everyone better understand the major themes and interests in diversity, equity, and inclusion. This includes topics such as unconscious bias, microaggressions, gender equity, LGBTQ+ equity, and so forth. Each presenter will present for about 10 minutes, The presentation should be accompanied by a slide show of at least 3-8 slides. Presenters should also prepare a 1 page summary of their chosen topic. The slide show will be added to an online pre-law resource guide for the UCLI website.

Area of Law Presentation:

Each intern will pick one week to present on an area of law. This is to help team members better understand what attorneys do in a given area of the law. This can be in major areas of law like criminal, immigration, Intellectual Property. It may also be in more niche areas of the law like entertainment law or law of the sea. Each presenter will present for about 10 minutes, The presentation should be accompanied by a slide show of at least 3-8 slides. Presenters should also prepare a 1 page summary of their chosen topic. The slide show will be added to an online pre-law resource guide for the UCLI website.

Attorney, Law Student, Judge Meeting:

4-6 times a semester we will be joined by an attorney, law student, and/or judge. These meetings are to help interns learn from our guests about what they do and why they have chosen to pursue careers in law. This is a great way to meet legal professionals in a smaller setting. In preparation for each of these meetings each intern should prepare at least three questions they would like to ask the guest. You do not need to ask all of the questions. This preparation is to help have a more lively discussion.

Communication

During your declared weekly hours, we request that you respond to any communications within 3 hours, unless you've communicated your absence in advance. This helps us stay organized and accountable as a team. You will use your @utahcli.org email for direct communication.

In your direct communication with staff members, other interns, and board members, we ask that you keep your emails concise. Please state the issue at hand or the question you have first before discussing the context.

Timekeeping/Compensation

Please keep track of the hours you work on UCLI matters and projects, including time spent in UCLI meetings. We will use your timesheets to determine stipend amounts, so please be accurate. We included a template below to help you get started.

Timesheet template here.

Accommodations

UCLI is committed to providing flexible work arrangements and other reasonable accommodations. If you need to rearrange your schedule or miss a meeting, please contact your immediate supervisor in advance of your anticipated absence, ideally 24 hours in advance for non-emergent situations. For other accommodation requests, please reach out to Kaitlyn Pieper at kaitlyn@utachcli.org.

How to Succeed

We want this experience to be an unforgettable one! Here are some tips to follow to make sure you're getting the most out of your internship with UCLI:

1. Make it clear what you're hoping to get out of the internship! UCLI's staff works tirelessly to make sure that everyone is getting to do something they are passionate about. Letting us know exactly what you would like to do can help us accommodate you best.
2. Communication is key! Because we will not be meeting in person, maintaining communication is essential for success. Outside of your required communications with other interns, the lead intern and your project supervisor, maintaining an open communication with the team can be incredibly helpful to developing long-lasting professional relationships. Be proactive in reaching out to your supervisor, don't ever be afraid to ask for help, and don't shy away from sending reminders—better to err on the side of over-communicating!
3. Be open to new opportunities! While we want our interns to work on projects they are passionate about, the size of our team might require you to work on something you are inexperienced in. Be open to the new experience and willing to learn as you work.
4. Stay organized! You might be on a variety of projects at once. While balancing school, it can prove to be really helpful to organize your time and priorities. Make sure you are completing assignments in time and attending meetings.
5. Set goals! Whether or not you are planning on attending law school or becoming part of the legal system, setting goals can be really helpful. Make a note of what you are trying to get out of the internship -- whether that is professional contacts, experience in a certain field, or something else -- and work towards those goals during your time as an intern.

Internship Evaluation Form

Evaluations will be conducted twice during the internship, at the midterm point and at the conclusion of the internship. At each point a Google Form survey will be delivered via email. Each staff member will fill out the survey for each intern. Each intern will also fill out the survey as a self-evaluation. After these are completed a meeting will be held to discuss the results of the survey. Associate Director, Jon Wayas, will conduct these evaluation meetings. The form may be viewed here. Please take time to read through the form to familiarize yourself with what you will be evaluated on.
